If you are a Lexington resident, you may submit a vacation house check request to have a police officer check the security of your residence while you are away on an extended vacation. During routine patrols, as time allows, the police officer will check the exterior of your residence, including windows and doors, to make sure they are secure.

If forced entry is located or your residence is found unsecured, the officer will attempt to contact you or a keyholder at the phone numbers you provide.

Please contact the Police Department on your return.

You are strongly encouraged to properly lock all doors and windows and have a friend or neighbor make periodic checks of your home as well.
